LEGACY, LOVE, LEADERSHIP: THE UNFOLDING ASSOCIATE PATH

Associate of the Sisters of Mercy of the Americas, Kathleen Wade invites sisters and associates to explore the legacy of individual charisms, the need to deepen relationships across those charisms, and the emerging role of leadership in association, locally and globally. Participants will enjoy interactive exploration, couched in a contemplative spirit.

SPEAKER

KATHLEEN WADE has been designing and directing leadership-development programs for women religious and their associates since 2010—including the Mercy Leadership Development and Collaborative Leadership Development Programs. She has facilitated workshops for writers, educators, and religious communities across the country. For a decade, Kathleen served as executive director, teacher and facilitator at Women Writing for (a) Change, a writing community in Cincinnati, Ohio.

Educated by the Sisters of Mercy, Kathleen was a member of the order for eleven years and has been a Mercy Associate since 1997. She enjoyed teaching high-school English, journalism and drama for several decades. Her poems and essays have appeared in a variety of anthologies. She has written a collection of stories about the Associate Movement: Ordinary People, Extraordinary Lives, as well as a full-length novel, Perfection. She continues to offer workshops and retreats. Kathleen lives with her husband in Cincinnati.
